Brief Report:

The webinar held on July 7, 2020, organized by the Department of Education and IQAC (Internal Quality Assurance Cell), addressed the pressing issue of coping with stress and managing education amidst the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic. Dr. Mrinal Mukherjee, an Assistant Professor and Coordinator at The West Bengal University of Teachers' Training, Education Planning and Administration, Kolkata, delivered an insightful session on Coping with stress and managing Education in the context of Covid-19 pandemic: The whole institutional approach. The event was inaugurated by Dr. Sabitri Dutta. The webinar utilized both YouTube and Google Meet platforms to facilitate participation.

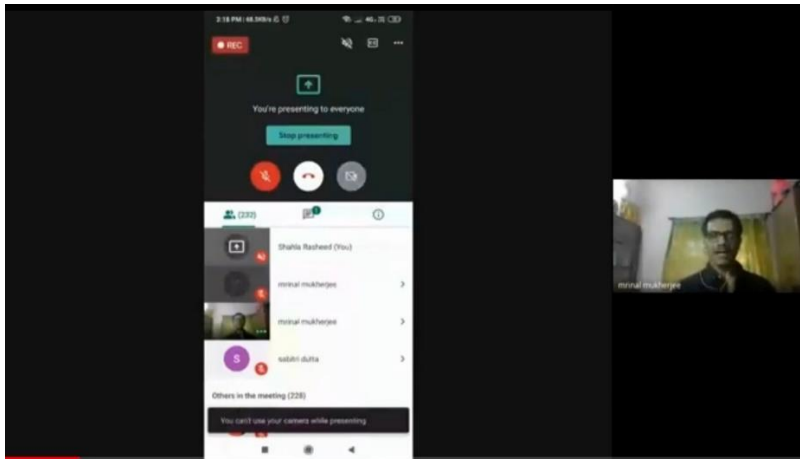

With a total of 700 participants joining from various parts of India, the webinar aimed to provide valuable insights and strategies for both educators and students navigating through the uncertainties brought about by the pandemic.

Dr. Mukherjee underscored the necessity of adopting a comprehensive approach that encompasses both individual initiatives and institutional support mechanisms to effectively cope with stress and ensure the continuity of education during these unprecedented times. He shared actionable tips and techniques for managing stress and maintaining academic productivity in the context of remote learning, which has become the new norm.

Moreover, the interactive nature of the session facilitated active participation and engagement among the attendees, fostering a collaborative learning environment where experiences and best practices were exchanged.

Overall, the webinar served as a valuable platform for educators and students alike to gain valuable insights, exchange ideas, and equip themselves with the necessary tools to navigate the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic in the education sector. The webinar ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. Sabitri Dutta.
